

Inspiring Traditions...

South Shore of Issyk-Kul

Altyn Oymok Yurt Camp was created by a family that honors and preserves the traditions of Kyrgyzstan. Here you will find a reverent attitude towards nature, family values and open, hospitable hearts of the owners. And many creative details, painstakingly created by the hands of all family members.

The camp is located a 10-minute walk from the lake, overlooking apple orchards and majestic mountains. From here you can build many walking & cycling routes. Or enjoy a swim in Issyk-Kul.

Each yurt is made of clay and wood, combining traditional Kyrgyz clay buildings with the age-old nomadic yurtformat.

Yurt camp “Altyn Oymok”

Yurt camp “Altyn Oymok” is a space, created for mental and quality relaxation surrounded by nature. Here you will find cozy yurts with amenities inside, a relaxation area in the garden and a panoramic platform with views of the mountains and Issyk-Kul.

South Shore of Issyk-Kul

Altyn Oymok was built by a family that honors and preserves the traditions of Kyrgyzstan. Here you will find a reverent attitude towards nature, family values and open, hospitable hearts of the owners. And many creative details, painstakingly created by the hands of all family members.

They pay attention to detail here. In each room there is a unique national carcass hanging, and on the floor there is a shyrdak made by the hands of local craftswomen. And all the furniture is assembled by hand by the owners.

On the territory of our house there is a felt workshop "Altyn Oymok" and a felt products store. You can watch the process of creating national carpets, sign up for a master class and create your own carpet, or find a piece of wool as a souvenir in the souvenir shop.
